file: PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

I am all around web developer very keen on front end development. I'm a code freak, always trying to strike best user experience and site performance balance. I prefer to create custom solutions to provide desired web site features but am also familiar with modern frameworks and responsive grids. I'm focused on details, self-contained in development process, quick to assimilate new ideas and latest technologies. I have more than 18 years experience in web development as individual or part of a team.
